

MINERS ENGAGE IN SHARP DEBATE OVER PROPOSAL

MOTION TO APPROVE OFFICERS'
ACTION PRECIPITATES
TROUBLE

Vote On Proposal
Has Been Delayed

Conservative Members in Majority
And Favorable Action Anticipated

Columbus, Jan. 6.—Heated debate was precipitated at the convention of the United Mine Workers by a motion to approve the action of the officers in accepting President Wilson's proposals for ending the coal strike.

Although the opposition was strong enough to cause postponement of the vote, conservative members are in the majority. Leading the opposition to the endorsement, introduced by P. H. Murray, Pittsburgh, was Delegate Joseph Leinal of Peoria, Ill. He sought to amend Murray's motion so as to disapprove action of Lewis and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the national organization, and to "condemn them."

"Eugene Debs and other sincere Americans went to jail," Leinal declared, after saying Lewis and Green should have done likewise, rather than "knuckle down" to the federal government. "Let's wait until the peace treaty is signed," Leinal concluded, "fire Lewis and the other officers; start a good house-cleaning and run this business ourselves."

Delegate Heaton, Indiana, declared he would rather "die and rot in hell" than give up the struggle for the rights of labor.

J. C. Lewis, Iowa, drew applause when he said Lewis and Green would not have done their duty by the organization had they acted otherwise than they did. "Going to jail would not have done our women and children," he said. "The operators never got a worse mauling than they did in this fight," he declared, amidst cheers. "The government went a long way to meet us when it allowed Dr. Garfield, backed by the cabinet, to go."

Several delegates, among them Gomer Davies, Olden, Ill., took the position the scale committee had no business to accept any scale—and by this he seemed to mean the temporary increase of 14 per cent—without first reconvening the convention.

A question as to what the miners would do in case President Wilson's commission of three failed to grant them any more than they are getting now brought this reply: "If we have a case, we can prove it, and if the men on the commission are men of integrity we will get justice." Lewis added he had supreme confidence in the integrity of the men the president had appointed to the commission.

Favorable action on the motion to approve the course of the officers is anticipated.

TROOPS AND MOBS EXCHANGE VOLLEYS; OVER 100 KILLED

Geneva, Jan. 6.—More than 100 persons have been killed or wounded in anti-dynastic manifestations at Sofia, according to Belgrade advices received here. Large crowds of manifestants, including the leading bourgeoisie, assembled before the palace, shouting "Long live the republic! Down with the king!"

They attempted to rush the palace, but the troops opened fire and the demonstrators replied with revolvers and stones. It was in this fighting that most of the casualties occurred.

The serious situation is due to increasing unrest in the capital and throughout Bulgaria because of dissatisfaction over the terms of the treaty, especially the loss of lands in Thrace.

FLOODS FOLLOW EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO; MANY VILLAGES WIPED OUT

Mexico City, Jan. 6.—Floods have followed the earthquake in eastern Mexico, causing many fatalities. The flood in the San Francisco river in the state of Vera Cruz was especially severe, wiping out many villages. Rinconada, between the city of Vera Cruz and Jalapa was completely submerged. Twenty five bodies have been recovered there and the water is dotted with many more corpses.

Official reports that began to trickle in today from the devastated area show that the damage and loss of life were more extensive than originally supposed.

WOMEN MEMBERS OF G.O.P. MEET TO MAKE DEMANDS

Hays Indorses the Stand of Women

Propose That Coming National Convention Double Membership of Committee

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Republican women from 14 states of the mid-west, conferring on party plans and issues for the 1920 presidential campaign, demanded equal representation with the men on the national committee of the party and urged "a fair representation of women delegates from each state" in the national convention in June.

Many of the women professed to see an immediate endorsement of their attitude in a speech which Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, delivered at a banquet which followed the conference. "The Republican party offers the women everything we offer the men," he said. "Republican women come into the party not as women but as voters entitled to participate and participating as other voters. They are not to be separated or segregated, but assimilated and amalgamated."

The women proposed in a formal resolution that the coming national convention "take action to double the membership" of the national committee, so that "each state be represented by one man and one woman member." They urged further that this become "the policy of the party in all party committees, both state and local."

The women also adopted 10 suggested planks for the Republican party platform. These included recommendations for "direct citizenship for women, not citizenship through marriage," and laws making possible the naturalization of married women.

Planks Suggested.

They also favored "national and state legislation for the regulation and abolition of child labor." Another section asks states and nation to establish the eight-hour day and 44-hour week for women in industry, with statutory provision for a day of rest each week. Permanent establishment of the women's bureau of the department of labor, a national employment service, "with adequate provision for departments for women in national offices and all local offices," and equal opportunities for women through the civil service were sponsored.

There was also a meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements for the national convention. The two affairs attracted a big gathering of party leaders and the local campaign headquarters of Governor Lowden. General Wood and Senator Harding of Ohio hummed with activity. Frank B. Willis, former governor of Ohio, gave out a statement endorsing the candidacy of Senator Harding.

Ernest Graham, architect for the Coliseum, where the convention will meet, informed the committee that 1,000 additional seats would be added, making the total 13,187, compared with 12,274 four years ago.

Edward Thayer of Indianapolis was chosen sergeant-at-arms. Guy V. Howard of Minneapolis and McGinnis Hatfield of West Virginia will be assistants.

The subterranean upheaval caused the waters of the flooded rivers to be covered for a while with some unknown black substance which gave off the stench of sulphur.

The town of Teocelo is reported to have been swallowed up entirely, not a vestige being left.

Soldiers and hundreds of villagers are searching the ruins of damaged cities for dead and injured.

Much suffering has been caused in the city of Vera Cruz by scarcity of drinking water. The water mains were broken at many places by the earthquake.

WILSON TO ASK DEMOCRATIC PARTY TO ADOPT PRO-GRAM

Washington, Jan. 6.—The rumor persisted today that President Wilson was planning to urge the Democratic party to make ratification of the peace treaty without the crossing of a "T" or the dotting of an "I" its chief campaign issue.

Wide-spread credence was given the report that this was a "burden of the important message" the president would send to the Democratic dinner on Jackson day (Thursday).

Beyond stating that the president's message would be a "long and important paper," Joseph Tumulty, the president's secretary, refused to discuss it. It was to be kept a secret until the dinner, Tumulty said.

At the headquarters of the Democratic national committee it was stated no intention as to the nature of the president's message had been received.

AGREEMENT REACHED WITH GERMANY IN TREATY PROPOSED

Paris, Jan. 6.—The supreme council has tentatively set Jan. 10 for the ratification of the treaty of Versailles. The council's basis for a settlement on the Scapa Flow sinkings was handed over to Baron Von Lersner, and it was announced that an agreement had been reached with the German delegation.

The Scapa Flow reparations agreement was reached upon the allies accepting a diminution of 125,000 tons from the 400,000 tons of naval material originally demanded from Germany. The Germans argued the impossibility of surrendering the tonnage originally demanded, and also pointed out errors in the inventory of the allies.

The allies were conciliatory and fixed 275,000 tons as final. To this the German delegates agreed.

HOUSING EXPERT TO ADDRESS THE C. OF C. LUNCHEON

Will Tell Xenians of Similar Troubles in Dayton in Past.

Harry J. Osburn, president of one of the largest housing companies in Dayton, will address the members of the Chamber of Commerce at the regular noon luncheon in the rooms of the organization Wednesday.

Mr. Osburn will speak on "What Adequate Housing Means to Xenia." The same problem of housing "that confronts Xenia has also been faced in Dayton where conditions are not yet fully relieved. Mr. Osburn is connected with the Gen City Improvement Association which has been instrumental in building 300 houses in Dayton last year, and in his talk will tell why more industries and people are coming to that city every day.

The housing problem, is probably the biggest the Chamber of Commerce has to face here. It is easily recognized that there can be no new industries or more people in Xenia until proper housing facilities have been provided, and this is the first thing that a factory looks for in changing site or establishing itself in a city.

The question is one of the most vital to be discussed before the local body. Mrs. Harry Sternberger of Cincinnati, special organizer and lecturer for the American Jewish Relief Campaign will also introduce her movement to the business men at this luncheon.

NEW TURN NOW TAKEN IN CASE OF BROWN TRIAL

DEVELOPMENTS COME THICK AND FAST IN HEARING ON MONDAY.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Jan. 6.—Developments in the murder mystery surrounding the killing of J. Stanley Brown, wealthy Mt. Clemens young man, whose body was found in his automobile with four bullet holes in his neck on Dec. 23, came thick and fast last night and today. The latest turn in the case was the delivery today to Attorney General Groesbeck by Mrs. J. Stanley Brown and her attorney of the money belt worn by Brown previous to his murder. The attorney stated to the authorities that the belt had been found underneath a pile of bedding in the Brown home, where Mrs. Brown had gone at the order of Groesbeck to hunt for letters supposedly written to Brown by Lloyd Prevost who is in jail in connection with the case. The belt was empty. Mr. Groesbeck announced that Mrs. Brown will be called in again this afternoon and questioned further.

A pistol of 38 calibre (the size of the gun used in the killing) is also in the possession of the attorney general and its ownership has been established and authorities are trying to find out where the cartridges were obtained for the slaying, the magazine having been empty when last seen by witnesses. A warrant for one of the parties under surveillance is momentarily expected.

SCHMIDT CASE IS IGNORED BY THE GRAND JURY

REPORT MADE TO COURT TUESDAY; OTHER CASES ARE PENDING.

The case of the state against H. E. Schmidt, charged with giving fraudulent weight in sugar sold to Nick Miller a Dayton grocer, was ignored by the grand jury which made a report to the court Tuesday morning.

Miller charged that there was a shortage of 50 pounds in two barrels of sugar which he bought from the defendant. The testimony on both sides offered at the original hearing was to the effect that the barrels had not been opened from the time they were packed until they passed into the hands of the prosecuting witness.

Three true bills were found by the grand jury, two of which are against one individual and are being kept secret until he is taken into custody. One case of burglary and larceny against Raymond Smith, Cedarville colored youth, was ignored, because of impossibility to fix the crime against him, but in the investigations regarding that case another of a similar nature developed. He was indicted on a charge of burglarizing the garage of Ralph Murdock in Cedarville last April 1, and stealing two automobile tires valued at $38. He was arrested in October on a charge of burglarizing and robbing the Murdock garage and the Spencer restaurant in Cedarville, but that charge was ignored by the grand jury.

The case against James Webster charged with larceny, and that against William Walker, charged with assault and battery against J. J. Turner, were ignored.

Columbus, O., Jan. 6.—A demand for the removal of Civil Service Commissioners, George Ewing and B. W. Walton, and Secretary Kenneth McKinley because of alleged inefficiency gross neglect and malfeasance in office has been sent to Governor Cox by J. E. Maloney, chief clerk of the state civil service commission.

Maloney, a Cincinnati Democrat, who entered the civil service two years ago alleges that Ewing and Walton often have been away from their offices.

WILSON MAY BECOME THIRD TERM CANDIDATE DESPITE ASSURANCES

Chicago, Jan. 6.—President Wilson may yet decide to become a third term candidate for the White House, according to J. Hamilton Lewis, ex-senator from Illinois and former Democratic whip of the senate.

"The Republican leaders of the senate can make Wilson a third term candidate," said Lewis, "just as they have done in two past campaigns in making Wilson their political antagonist."

"President Wilson's refusal to remove himself as a third term candidate is because of the unpopularity of those in his own party and of the Republican partisan leaders—presisting in hanging up the peace treaty in order to get a political issue on Wilson. The president may be forced by the country to go before the people to preach the truth of his own work in Paris as the issue of Democracy."

"Wilson will no more allow the cry 'third term' to obstruct him than did Roosevelt when he came forward as a third term candidate to save his name being repudiated by the masses of progress within his party."

NEW MEMBERS SELECTED TO FILL SCHOOL OPENING

B. SCHLESINGER RETIRES FROM OFFICE MONDAY AFTER LONG SERVICE.

J. W. Santmyer Is New President

Banquet Held in Honor of Retiring
Members of Board on Monday.

After having served as a member of the Xenia Board of Education since 1881, most of that time as its clerk, B. Schlesinger retired from office Monday. W. H. Donges also retired from the school board, and the two members were succeeded by H. S. LeSourd, and C. H. Little, who were elected to membership on the board of education last November.

In honor of the retiring and new members, a banquet was held at the McKinley school Monday night following the re-organization meeting of the new board.

J. W. Santmyer was elected to succeed Jacob Kany as president of the board. H. S. LeSourd was made vice president, and John R. Beachem was re-elected business manager of the schools and clerk of the board.

Mr. Kany has been president of the board for the last six years, having succeeded J. F. Orr to that position when the latter moved to Kansas City. He urged the election of another man to fill the place as head of the board.

There were covers for eighteen at the banquet which followed the business meeting, the affair being in charge of Mrs. Leroy Wolf, cooking teacher in the grades. A menu which featured roast turkey with oyster dressing, was served.

Mr. Kany, retiring president of the board, presided at a program of after dinner talks. He made a short speech in which he expressed the feeling of the board for the retiring members, mentioning in particular the thirty-nine years which Mr. Schlesinger had given to the schools in the capacity of member of the board of education, and clerk. Mr. Schlesinger served as clerk until three years ago, when John R. Beachem was appointed business manager, and the office of clerk merged into that position.

Mr. Kany presented to each of the retiring members, an umbrella, as a token of friendship of their former associates.

Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz gave a talk, in which he spoke of the recent advance in salaries which was given the teachers of the city schools and the gratitude which he felt because of this move.

There were covers at the banquet for Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany, Mr. and Mrs. B. Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Donges, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Little, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Spahr and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Beachem.

Bert Beam Made Member of Board

Bert Beam, well known farmer, has been appointed a member of the Greene County Board of Education to succeed O. P. Mitman, of Bath township, who recently resigned. The personnel of the board now is: W. B. Bryson, Xenia; J. B. Rife, Clifton; J. E. Hastings, Cedarville; A. C. Fisher, Bowersville, and Bert Beam, Mr. Rife's term expires this month.

GERMANS AMONG RING LEADERS IN 'REDS' MOVEMENT

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN POSSESSION OF PROOF OF IMPLICATION.

Revolution In U. S. Would Help Germany

Chaotic Conditions in Allied Nations Would Put Her in Power.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Germans not only are among the ring leaders of the "reds" movement in United States and the allied countries. Proof of this is in the hands of the department of justice here.

In France during the July labor troubles the charge was only made that German money was to a large extent responsible. The idea it was said was to bring about a revolution and failing that to cripple France industrially, so as to allow Germany to get the lead in business following the war.

That Germany would profit immensely through revolutions in America, England and France is admitted. If the allied governments retain their present power it is pointed out nothing can save Germany from having to pay the war debt brought upon herself.

On the other hand, should the condition of chaos, civil war and revolution be brought about in allied countries as now paralyzes Russia, Germany would at once find herself holding an advantage over her former enemies, and the warning of the German author of "J'accuse" (Germany will beat you yet), would come true.

The allies would no longer be in a position to enforce the treaty of Versailles, and at the same time the industries would be so tied up by strikes and other disorders that the Germans already working from 10 to 14 hours a day at reconstruction, would leave them all far behind.

WOOD ALCOHOL IS DEADLY SAYS EXPERT

New York, Jan. 6.—The effects which wood alcohol has on the system are explained in a statement given out by Dr. Reid Hunt, a leading authority on the effects of alcohol. The action of wood alcohol upon the animal organism is fundamentally different from that of ordinary alcohol. When ordinary alcohol is taken into the body it is rapidly converted into water and carbonic acid gas, which substances are always present in the body, and any excess of which is promptly eliminated by the kidneys and lungs. Wood alcohol, on the other hand, instead of being changed into harmless substances, which are easily eliminated, remains in the body as such for a considerable time and is then slowly converted into another poison—formic acid—the acid which is found in ants. These poisons and perhaps a third formed from wood alcohol—formaldehyde—attack the brain and other organs and cause death or blindness. It is as impossible to prepare nonpoisonous wood alcohol as it is to prepare nonpoisonous prussic acid.

WORK HOUSE WILL NOT BE ABANDONED SAYS CITY MANAGER

"The work house will not be closed,"

This is the statement of City Manager Kenyon Riddle, despite rumors current that the penal institution would be abandoned.

Many papers in counties that are now sending prisoners to the local work house have announced that the Xenia work house would soon be abandoned because of the fewness of prisoners now being taken care of, but this report is denied by the City Manager.

There are now only 11 prisoners confined in the work house, according to the report for the month of December submitted by Superintendent J. J. Horen. Prohibition hit the institution hard, the number of prisoners falling off immediately after the dry law went into effect. However the fact that there are few prisoners confined in the work house speaks well of the general crime condition in this section.

Harry J. Osburn, president of one of the largest housing companies in Dayton, will address the members of the Chamber of Commerce at the regular noon luncheon in the rooms of the organization Wednesday.

Mr. Osburn will speak on "What Adequate Housing Means to Xenia." The same problem of housing that confronts Xenia has also been faced in Dayton where conditions are not yet fully relieved. Mr. Osburn is connected with the Gem City Improvement Association which has been instrumental in building 300 houses in Dayton last year, and in his talk will tell why more industries and people are coming to that city every day.

The housing problem, is probably the biggest the Chamber of Commerce has to face here. It is easily recognized that there can be no new industries or no more people in Xenia until proper housing facilities have been provided, and this is the first thing that a factory looks for in changing site or establishing itself in a city.

The question is one of the most vital to be discussed before the local body. Mrs. Harry Sternberger of Cincinnati, special organizer and lecturer for the American Jewish Relief Campaign will also introduce her movement to the business men at this luncheon.

NEW TURN NOW TAKEN IN CASE OF BROWN TRIAL

DEVELOPMENTS COME THICK AND FAST IN HEARING ON MONDAY.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Jan. 6.—Developments in the murder mystery surrounding the killing of J. Stanley Brown, wealthy Mt. Clemens young man, whose body was found in his automobile with four bullet holes in his neck on Dec. 23, came thick and fast last night and today. The latest turn in the case was the delivery today to Attorney General Groesbeck by Mrs. J. Stanley Brown and her attorney of the money belt worn by Brown previous to his murder. The attorney stated to the authorities that the belt had been found underneath a pile of bedding in the Brown home, where Mrs. Brown had gone at the order of Groesbeck to hunt for letters supposedly written to Brown by Lloyd Prevost who is in jail in connection with the case. The belt was empty. Mr. Groesbeck announced that Mrs. Brown will be called in again this afternoon and questioned further.

A pistol of .38 calibre (the size of the gun used in the killing) is also in the possession of the attorney general and its ownership has been established and authorities are trying to find out where the cartridges were obtained for the slaying, the magazine having been empty when last seen by witnesses. A warrant for one of the parties under surveillance is momentarily expected.

SCHMIDT CASE IS IGNORED BY THE GRAND JURY

REPORT MADE TO COURT TUESDAY; OTHER CASES ARE PENDING.

The case of the state against H. E. Schmidt, charged with giving fraudulent weight in sugar sold to Nick Miller a Dayton grocer, was ignored by the grand jury which made a report to the court Tuesday morning.

Miller charged that there was a shortage of 50 pounds in two barrels of sugar which he bought from the defendant. The testimony on both sides offered at the original hearing was to the effect that the barrels had not been opened from the time they were packed until they passed into the hands of the prosecuting witness.

Three true bills were found by the grand jury, two of which are against one individual and are being kept secret until he is taken into custody. One case of burglary and larceny against Raymond Smith, Cedarville colored youth, was ignored, because of impossibility to fix the crime against him, but in the investigations regarding that case another of a similar nature developed. He was indicted on a charge of burglarizing the garage of Ralph Murdock in Cedarville last April 1, and stealing two automobile tires valued at $38. He was arrested in October on a charge of burglarizing and robbing the Murdock garage and the Spencer restaurant in Cedarville, but that charge was ignored by the grand jury.

The case against James Webster charged with larceny, and that against William Walker charged with assault and battery against J. J. Turner, were ignored.

NEW MEMBERS SELECTED TO FILL SCHOOL OPENING

B. SCHLESINGER RETIRES FROM OFFICE MONDAY AFTER LONG SERVICE.

J. W. Santmyer Is New President

Banquet Held in Honor of Retiring Members of Board on Monday.

After having served as a member of the Xenia Board of Education since 1881, most of that time as its clerk, B. Schlesinger retired from office Monday. W. H. Donges also retired from the school board, and the two members were succeeded by H. S. LeSourd, and C. H. Little, who were elected to membership on the board of education last November.

In honor of the retiring and new members, a banquet was held at the McKinley school Monday night following the re-organization meeting of the new board.

J. W. Santmyer was elected to succeed Jacob Kany as president of the board. H. S. LeSourd was made vice president, and John R. Beachem was re-elected business manager of the schools and clerk of the board. Mr. Kany has been president of the board for the last six years, having succeeded J. P. Orr to that position when the latter moved to Kansas City. He urged the election of another man to fill the place as head of the board.

There were covers for eighteen at the banquet which followed the business meeting, the affair being in charge of Mrs. Leroy Wolf, cooking teacher in the grades. A menu which featured roast turkey with oyster dressing, was served.

Mr. Kany, retiring president of the board, presided at a program of after dinner talks. He made a short speech in which he expressed the feeling of the board for the retiring members, mentioning in particular the thirty-nine years which Mr. Schlesinger had given to the schools in the capacity of member of the board of education, and clerk. Mr. Schlesinger served as clerk until three years ago, when John R. Beachem was appointed business manager, and the office of clerk merged into that position.

Mr. Kany presented to each of the retiring members, an umbrella, as a token of friendship of their former associates.

Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz gave a talk, in which he spoke of the recent advance in alarums which was given the teachers of the city schools and the gratitude which he felt because of this move.

There were covers at the banquet for Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany, Mr. and Mrs. B. Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Donges, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Little, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Spahr and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Beachem.

Bert Beam Made Member of Board

Bert Beam, well known farmer, has been appointed a member of the Greene County Board of Education to succeed O. P. Mitman, of Bath township, who recently resigned. The personnel of the board now is: W. B. Bryson, Xenia; J. B. Rife, Clifton; J. E. Hastings, Cedarville; A. C. Fisher, Bowersville, and Bert Beam. Mr. Rife's term expires this month.

WILSON MAY BECOME THIRD TERM CANDIDATE DESPITE ASSURANCES

Chicago, Jan. 6.—President Wilson may yet decide to become a third term candidate for the White House, according to J. Hamilton Lewis, ex-senator from Illinois and former Democratic whip of the senate.

"The Republican leaders of the senate can make Wilson a third term candidate," said Lewis, "just as they have done in two past campaigns in making Wilson their political antagonist."

"President Wilson's refusal to remove himself as a third term candidate is because of the unpatriotic

GERMANS AMONG RING LEADERS IN 'REDS' MOVEMENT

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN POSSESSION OF PROOF OF IMPLICATION.

Revolution In U. S. Would Help Germany

Chaotic Conditions in Allied Nations Would Put Her in Power.

Washington, Jan. 6.—German leaders of the "reds" movement in United States and the allied countries. Proof of this is in the hands of the department of justice here.

In France during the July labor troubles the charge was openly made that German money was to a large extent responsible. The idea it was said was to bring about a revolution and failing that to cripple France industrially, so as to allow Germany to get the lead in business following the war.

That Germany would profit immensely through revolutions in America, England and France is admitted. If the allied governments retain their present power it is pointed out nothing can save Germany from having to pay the war debt brought upon herself.

On the other hand, should the condition of chaos, civil war and revolution be brought about in allied countries as now paralyzes Russia, Germany would at once find herself holding an advantage over her former enemies, and the warning of the German author of "J'accuse" (Germany will beat you yet), would come true.

The allies would no longer be in a position to enforce the treaty of Versailles, and at the same time the industries would be so tied up by strikes and other disorders that the Germans already working from 10 to 14 hours a day at reconstruction, would leave them all far behind.

WOOD ALCOHOL IS DEADLY SAYS EXPERT

New York, Jan. 6.—The effects which wood alcohol has on the system are explained in a statement given out by Dr. Reid Hunt, a leading authority on the effects of alcohol. The action of wood alcohol upon the animal organism is fundamentally different from that of ordinary alcohol. When ordinary alcohol is taken into the body it is rapidly converted into water and carbonic acid gas, which substances are always present in the body, and any excess of which is promptly eliminated by the kidneys and lungs. Wood alcohol, on the other hand, instead of being changed into harmless substances, which are easily eliminated, remains in the body as such for a considerable time and is then slowly converted into another poison—formic acid—the acid which is found in ants. These poisons and perhaps a third formed from wood alcohol—formaldehyde—attack the brain and other organs and cause death or blindness. It is impossible to prepare nonpoisonous wood alcohol as it is to prepare nonpoisonous prussic acid.

WORK HOUSE WILL NOT BE ABANDONED SAYS CITY MANAGER

"The work house will not be closed,"

This is the statement of City Manager Kenyon Riddle, despite rumors current that the penal institution would be abandoned.

Many papers in counties that are now sending prisoners to the local work house have announced that the Xenia work house would soon be abandoned because of the fewness of prisoners now being taken care of, but this report is denied by the City Manager.

There are now only 11 prisoners confined in the work house, according to the report for the month of December submitted by Superintendent J. J. Horen. Prohibition hit the institution hard, the number of prisoners falling off immediately after the dry law went into effect. However the fact that there are few prisoners confined in the work house speaks well of the general crime condition in this section.

STARRING SPORTS

BY N. E. BROWN

We have with us today the dope that Heinie Zimmerman, you all know Heinie, is going to wear a Pittsburgh uniform this coming baseball season. A deal involving him is said to be in the incubator now. If the deal goes through Heinie will play first base for Gibson and Whitted can go back to his regular berth in the outfield.

The report of the coming disposal of Heinie by Jawn is strengthened by the fact that Jim was in bad with McGraw at the close of last season, being under suspension for breaking training rules.

Henry—that's Heinie—was born in the Big Burg—meaning New York—February 10, 1886. He broke into pro ball at Wilkesbarre in the New York state league in 1906 and stayed there until sold to the Cubs in 1907 for $1,250. He played in Chicago until traded to the Giants in the middle of the season for Harry Doyle, Jacobson and Hunter. Heinie has been a cracker-jack infielder and has hit the .300 mark in batting three times. His temperament has caused him heaps of trouble with his managers and the umpires, but he is popular with the old league fans.

Heinie broke into the sprinting news when he essayed to beat out Eddie Collins in a race from third to home plate in the world series of 1917.

Precisely, and it is an extract that is one of the most widely known and generally used in the world—vanilla.—Exchange.

JOHN DILLENCOURT DIES AT HIS HOME MONDAY; AGED 78

The death of John Dillencourt, which occurred at his home on North Galloway St., at 1:30 P. M., Monday, marks the passing of one more of the well-known, old-time residents of Xenia.

Although in failing health for the past two years, with characteristic optimism, he continued his work until last July, when he was compelled by increasing weakness to settle his business affairs and remain at home. Since the last week in August he had been confined to his bed suffering with Pernicious Anemia.

Mr. Dillencourt was born in County Tyrone in the north of Ireland, July 7, 1841, and was seventy-eight years of age. A great reader he kept in close touch with the vital issues of the day and was well informed upon the great world questions. He was also a lover of poetry and could quote accurately many of the poems of Robert Burns and Thomas Moore, his favorite poets.

Mr. Dillencourt was married in early manhood to Margaret Stephenson, his childhood neighbor and playmate, and soon after their marriage the young couple came to this country for the purpose of establishing a new home. They settled at Lebanon, Ohio, where Mr. Dillencourt pursued the trade which he had learned in his boyhood home, and at which he had worked for two years in Liverpool, England, before his marriage.

He speedily established a reputation for skill in his specialty of fine hand made shoes, in the days when the factory made shoe was not common as it is at present. After a few years residence in Lebanon, he brought his family to Xenia, where he has resided ever since.

He is survived by his aged wife, three daughters, Miss Jennie at home, Miss Letitia, principal of the Spring Valley H. S., and Mrs. W. J. Drew of Medina, Ohio, and one son, John W. Dillencourt of Chicago.

The funeral services and burial will both be private, the service being held at the home on Wednesday afternoon.

The service will be conducted by the family pastor, Rev. Mr. Read, of the first Baptist church, assisted by Dr. W. J. Drew of Medina, O., son-in-law of the decedent.

It is the request of the family that no flowers be sent.

Thin, Nervous Folks Should Try Drinking Systoxem.

AFTER BREAKFAST, DINNER AND SUPPER FOR TWO WEEKS

Dr. Eugene M. Brown, formerly Clinical Instructor Boston University School of Medicine, in commenting on the various so-called "tonics" and preparations advertised for increasing strength, weight, nerve-force and power of endurance, said: "Men and women grow old before the time intended by Nature, simply because their blood lacks the power to build nerve-force, tissue, strength and endurance. Many tonics and blood purifiers have been used to overcome this deficiency, but this method of taking Systoxem and ordinary drinking water after meals cannot help but appeal to the physician who has watched its up-building influence."

"Thin, nervous, run-down men and women, seldom figure out the cause of their weakness and delicate condition, which is usually due to thin blood and hungry nerves. As a rule they do not get the necessary chemical substances—that unseen, wonderful process in the human body that changes the food we eat into bodily vigor and energy."

The reason why ordinary drinking water and Systoxem is so widely advocated is because this combination helps supply the blood and nerves with the substances so necessary to active metabolism—that unseen, wonderful process in the human body that changes the food we eat into bodily vigor and energy.

If you are thin, nervous or run-down, if you owe it to yourself to try this simple method. Simply take two 5-grain Systoxem tablets and a glass of ordinary drinking water after meals, three times a day for about two weeks. Then weigh yourself and test your strength and endurance by walking and see what you have gained.

The city drinking water here is considered pure and good for this purpose, and Systoxem is dispensed by Sayre & Hemphill, Sohn's Drug Store and other good druggists.

The current of water through the ocean, which is commonly called the Gulf Stream, is of varying width at different points. Its width, according to the conditions that influence it, may vary from 45 to 100 miles, and its course also varies slightly from time to time. In popular usage the name is often applied not only to designate the Gulf stream proper, but much of the oceanic drift of the north Atlantic.

SPORTS

BY N. E. BROWN

We have with us today the dope that Heinie Zimmerman, you all know Heinie, is going to wear a Pittsburgh uniform this coming baseball season. A deal involving him is said to be in the incubator now. If the deal goes through Heinie will play first base for Gibson and Whitted can go back to his regular berth in the outfield.

The report of the coming disposal of Heinie by Jawn is strengthened by the fact that Jim was in bad with McGraw at the close of last season, being under suspension for breaking training rules.

Henry—that's Heinie—was born in the Big Burg—meaning New York—February 10, 1886. He broke into pro ball at Wilkesbarre in the New York state league in 1906 and stayed there until sold to the Cubs in 1907 for $12,500. He played in Chicago until traded to the Giants in the middle of the season for Harry Doyle, Jacobson and Hunter. Heinie has been a cracker-jack infielder and has hit the .300 mark in batting three times. His temperament has caused him heaps of trouble with his managers and the umpires, but he is popular with the old league fans.

Heinie broke into the sprinting news when he essayed to beat out Eddie Collins in a race from third to home plate in the world series of 1917.

Vanilla From the Orchard. Ask an average man whether he has ever tasted the fruit of an orchid, and the chances are that he will reply that he has not. But he has at least, if he eats ice cream and cake, from which statement it may be inferred that the fruit alluded to is not eaten like an apple, peach or pear but is consumed in the form of a flavoring extract. Precisely, and it is an extract that is one of the most widely known and generally used in the world—vanilla.—Exchange.

STRAINED RELATIONS BETWEEN GOMPERS AND RAIL UNIONS

Washington, Jan. 6.—Relations between Samuel Gompers and the chiefs of the four big railroad brotherhoods are strained today to a breaking point. Labor circles are expecting an open rupture after the pending railroad legislation is out of the way.

It is no longer a secret that Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, remained away from Gompers conference of railroad union heads last week to avoid a break at the time when unity in labor ranks was needed as never before. In labor circles it is being predicted that proceedings for the affiliation of Stone's organization and the brotherhood of railroad conductors with the A. F. O. L. now held up by a jurisdictional dispute with the street railway men's union, may not be consummated. The next convention of the federation could force action, friends of Stone say, but they intimate his organization may decide it does not want affiliation.

The death of John Dillencourt, which occurred at his home on North Galloway St., at 1:30 P. M., Monday, marks the passing of one more of the well-known, old-time residents of Xenia.

Although in failing health for the past two years, with characteristic optimism, he continued his work until last July, when he was compelled by increasing weakness to settle his business affairs and remain at home. Since the last week in August he had been confined to his bed suffering with Pernicious Anemia.

Mr. Dillencourt was born in County Tyrone in the north of Ireland, July 7, 1841, and was seventy-eight years of age. A great reader he kept in close touch with the vital issues of the day and was well informed upon the great world questions. He was also a lover of poetry and could quote accurately many of the poems of Robert Burns and Thomas Moore, his favorite poets.

Mr. Dillencourt was married in early manhood to Margaret Stephenson, his childhood neighbor, and playedmate, and soon after their marriage the young couple came to this country for the purpose of establishing a new home. They settled at Lebanon, Ohio, where Mr. Dillencourt pursued the trade which he had learned in his boyhood home, and at which he had worked for two years in Liverpool, England, before his marriage.

He speedily established a reputation for skill in his speciality of fine hand made shoes. In the days when the factory made shoe was not common as it is at present. After a few years residence in Lebanon, he brought his family to Xenia, where he has resided ever since.

He is survived by his aged wife, three daughters, Miss Jennie at home, Miss Letitia, principal of the Spring Valley H. S., and Mrs. W. J. Drew of Medina, Ohio, and one son, John W. Dillencourt of Chicago.

The funeral services and burial will both be private, the service being held at the home on Wednesday afternoon.

The service will be conducted by the family pastor, Rev. Mr. Read, of the first Baptist church, assisted by Dr. W. J. Drew of Medina, O., son-in-law of the decedent.

It is the request of the family that no flowers be sent.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of 1114 East Main street, have sold a portion of their property in Mobile, Ala., to Rev. H. W. Skinner, and are expecting a sale for the rest in the near future. They are anticipating buying in Xenia very soon.

Thin, Nervous Folks Should Try Drinking Water

Systoxem. AFTER BREAKFAST, DINNER AND SUPPER FOR TWO WEEKS

Dr. Eugene M. Brown Formerly Clinical Instructor Boston University School of Medicine

In commenting on the various so-called "tonics" and preparations advertised for increasing strength, weight, nerve-force and power of endurance, said: "Men and women grow old before the time intended by Nature, simply because their blood lacks the power to build nerve-force, tissue, strength and endurance. Many tonics and blood purifiers have been used to overcome this deficiency, but this method of taking Systoxem and ordinary drinking water after meals cannot help but appeal to the physician who has watched its up-building influence."

Thin, nervous, run-down men and women, seldom are aware of the cause of their weakness and delicate condition, which is usually due to thin blood and hungry nerves. As a rule they do not get the necessary chemical substances for increasing red blood corpuscles and nerve-force from the modern foods they eat.

The reason why ordinary drinking water and Systoxem is so widely advocated is because this combination helps supply the blood and nerves with the substances so necessary to active metabolism—that unseen, wonderful process in the human body that changes the food we eat into bodily vigor and energy.

If you are thin, nervous or run-down, you owe it to yourself to try this simple method. Simply take two 5-grain Systoxem tablets and a glass of ordinary drinking water after meals, three times a day for about two weeks. Then weigh yourself and test your strength and endurance by walking and see what you have gained.

The city drinking water here is considered pure and good for this purpose, and Systoxem is dispensable. Sayre & Henthall, Xenia's Drug Store and other good druggists.

Gain Strength Rapidly on Vinol

Vinol is successful because it is a non-secret remedy which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Hypophosphites—but no oil—the very elements needed to build up strength and robustness. Children love to take it.

The Wonderful Efficiency of Vinol is proven by these letters

Aiken, S. C.—"My little girl five years of age had been delicate all her life. She was weak, run-down, no appetite, and she could not keep still a minute. We were very much worried about her. Our druggist, who is a doctor, said Vinol was the best tonic he knew for her. We tried it and you ought to see how she has improved by its use."—MRS. LEONARD W. GEORGE

For all run-down, nervous, anemic children there is no remedy like Vinol. Your money will be returned if Vinol fails—

CLEVELANDERS ARE ROUTED FROM HOTEL BY MORNING FIRE

Cleveland, O., Jan. 6.—Routed from their beds early Monday when fire threatened the Woodland hotel, 150 guests were driven into the streets in scant attire with the temperature close to zero. The occupants of the hotel were warned by the police who discovered the fire and scores were slightly injured in the rush to leave the building. The rear of the hotel block was gutted and despite the efforts of 15 fire companies the fire was not controlled until 7 o'clock Monday morning. Twenty persons, comprising four families, living in rear apartments, barely escaped with their lives. The floors occupied by them fell just after they reached safety. An early estimate placed the fire damage at $50,000.

Although it is expected she will be disfigured, Mrs. Cochran's condition today was improved. She has deep cuts across her face, neck, chest and back. When attacked Mrs. Cochran and her two small children were alone in the home. The crazed man, after releasing his hold on the woman, rushed to a medicine chest and drank the contents of several bottles, hoping it is believed, to find poison.

Schools Open After Christmas Holidays

Xenia school children started back to school Monday morning, both public and parochial schools opening after the Christmas holidays. Only the pride and joy in displaying new Christmas possessions in some cases drove the dejected look from the boys and girls, who were sorry that the mid-winter vacation had passed so quickly. Many new sleds were pulled to school and many other Christmas presents were compared in awe on the school grounds. Mothers alone are glad that the vacation period has expired and the children will be out of their way until the summer vacation period comes. In large families especially, the holidays were, as usual, strenuous. The teachers are torn between two sentiments. They enjoy the vacation, but after a strenuous holiday shopping period, will welcome the regular pay envelope again.

Hear It For Yourself

the phonograph which amazed all Xenia

Are you one of those who believe that no phonograph can match the voice of the living human? An astonishing discovery awaits you—like the thousand Zenians who attended the Glen Ellison recital.

Thomas A. Edison gave his famous Tone-Test last December 5th in Trinity Church. He had Mr. Ellison sing in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his voice by the New Edison. Music lovers were completely baffled. Their ears were unable to distinguish the RE-CREATED voice from the living. You have never heard any phonograph that approaches the New Edison. It RE-CREATES not only the musical notes, but every elusive quality of tone and color which identify the original artist.

Many new students were pulled to school and many other Christmas presents were compared in awe on the school grounds. Mothers alone are glad that the vacation period has expired and the children will be out of their way until the summer vacation period comes. In large families especially, the holidays were, as usual, strenuous. The teachers are torn between two sentiments. They enjoy the vacation, but after a strenuous holiday shopping period, will welcome the regular pay envelope again.

Somewhat Expensive Meal.
In central Africa in the diamond mines of the Beers a negro miner recently swallowed 21 diamonds weighing 847 carats. As the stones were worth from $350 to $500 each, this little dinner cost the mine owners $103,700. An X-ray is now used on the miners as they leave for the day.

FIRST WOMAN TO REPORT DOINGS OF HOUSE OF COMMONS

All kinds of precedents are being established with the entrance of Nancy Langhorne Astor to the house of commons. One of the first was the entrance of a woman to the reporters' gallery. Miss Cody has the distinction of being the first woman ever present in official capacity in the press gallery in the lower house. She wrote a feature story on the occasion of the introduction of Lady Astor to the house.

Thomas A. Edison gave his famous Tone-Test last December 5th in Trinity Church. He had Mr. Ellison sing in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his voice by the New Edison. Music lovers were completely baffled. Their ears were unable to distinguish the RE-CREATED voice from the living. You have never heard any phonograph that approaches the New Edison. It RE-CREATES not only the musical notes, but every elusive quality of tone and color which identify the original artist.

IS THIS AN "APRIL FOOL" JOKE OR NOT?

Washington is Hooverizing. Not in the sense of food conservation, but in the more reckless domain of presidential speculation. The Hoover boom has undoubtedly struck the capital. It has been propelled hither in consequence of sentiment apparently crystallizing in many and widely separated parts of the country.

The anomalous feature of the boom is the adherents' indifference to the fact that nobody knows whether Herbert Hoover is a Republican or a Democrat. The nearest guess to his real political complexion is vouchsafed by a Democratic leader of national renown who avers that "Hoover is—just Hoover."

In that terse epitome seems to lie the bone and sinew of the movement in the late food administrator's favor. The people know him only as an efficient business man and demonstrated success in the conduct of national and international affairs, and want him on that record. Nearly everybody accounts Mr. Hoover a Republican.

Mr. Hoover has no organization and is not, so far as Washington wisacres know, engaged in perfecting one. His friends discern his strength in his "dark horse" possibilities. They speak of him as a "deadlock candidate," who will emerge as a logical necessity at a psychological moment in the convention. You know this is the way William Jennings Bryan first came into prominence—but judging from Bryan's example it cannot be considered a lucky incident to be a "dark horse" candidate.

If Ohio's favorite son, and the favorite sons of other states, and General Wood, should not suit the G. O. P. folks at Chicago, in June, and it should turn out that Mr. Hoover proved the nominee for President, we are sure that millions of voters would be well pleased, for he is certainly a great man. One who could fulfill the arduous duty that he had in the reconstruction scheme, the feeding of the starving millions of Europe, and do it with the hearty acclaim of all, is a man of the greatest ability—a man who "does things"—a practical business man—an executive of broad and comprehensive mind.

During the recent period of the scarcity of food, we were all glad to be "Hooverized," to the end that no one should act the hog, and if it should turn out to be the best thing for the nation to have this great man to rule over us, we will feel it a Providential act—for we believe that God does direct in the affairs of men and nations.

If it should turn out that this "Hoover boom" is only a joke, no harm has been done, for we must all have our little pleasantries occasionally.

A Modern Story of Home and Business Chapter 19.

Up to this I had not given a single thought to Robert's being unambitious. But now as I thought of what he had said to me, it seemed that he had a wrong idea of things, he would call it a "slant." That because I earned a large salary he either had no need to, or could not earn as large or larger, was ridiculous.

I concluded he was hurt and sore because Glen Turner had been advanced, practically over his head. I too, rather wonder why it had been done; and was inclined to feel a bit angry over it. Robert had been a steady, faithful worker. He never was late, and asked no favors. It must have been some sort of favoritism that had given Glen the preference. They would give Robert the next opportunity I was positive.

You see dear, Glen must have had some kind of a pull—he must, I added as Robert shook his head. "They don't take an under clerk and put him right over another man's head without some reason."

"I told you the reason. I'm not up to grade."

"Nonsense! You are hurt because you feel slighted. Don't feel that way. It will be your turn next."

"Next! don't talk about it!" he said, more impatiently than he ever had spoken to me. "They'll probably give Tim (the office boy) the next boost."

The next day when I told Mary Ryan all about it, and how disappointed Robert was, she said:

"You don't mean to tell me Gerry Meredith that Robert's firm have given that nincompoop Glen Turner a position over Robert! Why that fellow don't know enough to come in when it rains. That is he don't compared to Robert."

"I know—and Robert is awfully blue."

"Poor fellow! he has a right to be. How in the world did they come to do such a thing?"

"Bob says it is his own fault, that he hasn't been able to fix his mind on anything lately. He's jealous too."

"Jealous! Gerry Meredith have you turned Vampire? What in the name of all that's good have you been doing to make him jealous?" Mary's expression was so comical I burst out laughing.

"Oh, he's not jealous of any man—I should say not! He's jealous of my salary. Because I had a raise and he didn't." I replied when able to speak.

"I'm not surprised at that. I thought you had been getting into mischief."

"Why do you say you aren't surprised. Mary? Most men would be glad to have their wives get a raise."

"No—not most men, Gerry. Men rather have their wives at home and trust to getting a raise themselves."

"You can't stop talking about men wanting their wives to stay at home, can you?" I asked impatiently. It was really annoying to annoy me the way Mary Ryan harped on that subject.

"Not so long as I know they want them to," she replied.

"Nice way we'd have to live if we had only Bob's salary," I returned, still annoyed. "I prefer to work and live decently."

"If you do live decent. Someway if don't seem so awful decent to make your husband jealous and miserable. But perhaps I'd do worse if I had one to try experiments on. Is he staying out so much of nights now?"

"Oh, once in a while," I replied carelessly. Mary had absolutely refused to allow me to teach her anything in the evening when Robert was at home. She called it "butting in."

"Vamp! him a little, Gerry, and keep him with you. Especially if he's blue. A fellow what is down in the mouth gets to doing foolish things sometimes."

"Robert isn't as silly as that. He hasn't been drinking at all lately. I thought she referred to that."

"I didn't mean that! Some things are worse than drink," she said as she turned to wait on a customer.

Gladio Pine is the most wonderful cough medicine made because it acts so pleasantly and quickly. It relieves all kinds of throat irritations, stops a cough and opens up the air passages. Gladio Pine is a volatile liquid which gives off fumes when it comes in contact with the delicate membrane of the mouth and throat. These fumes enter the air cells of the bronchial tubes and lungs and cut the phlegm or mucus which fills the lungs in pneumonia and causes the tickling sensation in bronchitis. If Gladio Pine is taken when the first signs of a cough or cold appear it will destroy cold, grip or influenza germs that may be lodged there before they have time to get imbedded in the delicate membranes of the lungs or bronchial tubes. Gladio Pine should always be kept in the home so it can be used when the first indications of a cold appear. Gladio Pine has a wonderful record for curing long standing chronic coughs. Its record is marvelous.

MAY TAKE DITCH CASE INTO SUPREME COURT

An appeal to take the now famous ditch case of the County Commissioners vs. J. F. Harshman into the Supreme court, has been made by attorneys acting for the commissioners.

The Supreme court was asked Monday to order the appellate court to certify its record in the case, and the question of whether the case will be allowed in the Supreme court will probably be heard Thursday and a decision made.

The case concerns some changes in Beavercreek which Harshman has sued to have the commissioners make and the court of appeals has decided in his favor twice. The commissioners now hope to carry the case to Supreme court.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arceine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arceine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

Chapter 19.

Up to this I had not given a single thought to Robert's being unambitious. But now, as I thought of what he had said to me, it seemed that he had a wrong idea of things, he would call it a "slant." That because I earned a large salary he either had no need to, or could not earn as large or larger, was ridiculous.

I concluded he was hurt and sore because Glen Turner had been advanced, practically over his head. I too, rather wondered why it had been done; and was inclined to feel a bit angry over it. Robert had been a steady, faithful worker. He never was late, and asked no favors. It must have been some sort of favoritism that had given Glen the preference. They would give Robert the next opportunity I was positive.

You see dear, Glen must have had some kind of a pull—he must, I added as Robert shook his head. "They don't take an under clerk and put him right over another man's head without some reason."

"I told you the reason. I'm not up to grade."

"Nonsense! You are hurt because you feel slighted. Don't feel that way. It will be your turn next."

"Next! don't talk about it!" he said, more impatiently than he ever had spoken to me. "They'll probably give Tim (the office boy) the next boost."

The next day when I told Mary Ryan all about it, and how disappointed Robert was, she said:

"You don't mean to tell me Gerry Meredith that Robert's firm have given that nincompoop Glen Turner a position over Robert! Why that fellow don't know enough to come in when it rains. That is he don't compared to Robert."

"I know—and Robert is awfully blue."

"Poor fellow! he has a right to be. How in the world did they come to do such a thing?"

"Bob says it is his own fault, that he hasn't been able to fix his mind on anything lately. He's jealous too."

"Jealous! Gerry Meredith have you turned Vampire? What in the name of all that's good have you been doing to make him jealous?" Mary's expression was so comical I burst out laughing.

"Oh, he's not jealous of any man—I should say not! He's jealous of my salary. Because I had a raise and he didn't." I replied when able to speak.

"I'm not surprised at that. I thought you had been getting into mischief."

"Why do you say you aren't surprised, Mary? Most men would be glad to have their wives get a raise."

"No—not most men, Gerry. Men rather have their wives at home and trust to getting a raise themselves."

"You can't stop talking about men wanting their wives to stay at home, can you?" I asked impatiently. It was really commencing to annoy me the way Mary Ryan harped on that subject.

"Not so long as I know they want them to," she replied.

"Nice way we'd have to live if we had only Bob's salary." I returned, still annoyed. "I prefer to work and live decently."

"If you do live decent. Someway if I don't seem so awful decent to make your husband jealous and miserable. But perhaps I'd do worse if I had one to try experiments on. Is he staying out so much of nights now?"

"Oh, once in a while," I replied carelessly. Mary had absolutely refused to allow me to teach her anything in the evening when Robert was at home. She called it "butting in."

"Vamp him a little Gerry, and keep him with you. Especially if he's blue. A fellow what is down in the mouth gets to doing foolish things sometimes."

"Robert isn't as silly as that. He Fourteen children of veterans of the late war are now pupils of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan's Home. Three such children were admitted to the institution by the board of trustees at its January meeting Saturday night, when eleven children altogether were received.

Several of the recently admitted children have fathers who were veterans of both the Spanish and World wars.

The board of trustees transacted only routine business at the Saturday night meeting. All the members were present.

MAY TAKE DITCH CASE INTO SUPREME COURT

An appeal to take the now famous ditch case of the County Commissioners vs. J. F. Harshman into the Supreme court, has been made by attorney acting for the commissioners.

The Supreme court was asked Monday to order the appellate court to certify its record in the case, and the question of whether the case will be allowed in the Supreme court will probably be heard Thursday and a decision made.

The case concerns some changes in Beaver Creek which Harshman has sued to have the commissioners make and the court of appeals has decided in his favor twice. The commissioners now hope to carry the case to Supreme court.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are hardly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

HAS BASEBALL FORTUNE DAWNED AT LAST FOR JIM THORPE? THIS SEASON'LL TELL

Jim Thorpe as the college world knew him in track athletics and football toge, and when he broke into big leagues with Giants.

BY N. E. BROWN

The recent arrangement whereby the National league waived all claim on Jim Thorpe so that the Braves might release him to the Akron International league club is of more than passing interest.

There looms the possibility that the great Indian athlete is about to achieve the fame which has long evaded him in baseball, as a result of the change.

Thorpe entered the big leagues at the close of his college career. If you'll recall, Thorpe had set the athletic world on fire with his prowess as an all-around athlete at Carlisle. He was the idol of thousands. He had grown accustomed to performing in the limelight, under the admiring gaze of the crowds. It may be that this stimulus became a necessary part of the conditions surrounding him.

At any rate, when the New York Giants signed him up, fans gave him due credit for being a great athlete, but they were critical. "Will he make good as a big league ball player?" was the question they paid to see answered. Jim showed a terrible weakness in "hitting curved balls. Consequently he failed to shine at bat. The Giants had a great outfield when he came, so there was no room for him as long as he could not hit. He soon found himself sitting on the bench with the plaudits of the multitude going over his head to the ears of some other player.

Now don't get the idea that Thorpe thereupon sulked, growled, threatened to take his dolls and go home or did any such thing. He stuck to his new work with typical Indian grimace. He listened to every word of advice McGraw and the other Giants gave him. If he hadn't plugged hard he never would have stayed in the big leagues.

But with all his plugging he failed to develop into the star McGraw hoped he would be. Believing that a chance with another club where he could play regularly might help him, McGraw allowed Jim to go to the Braves. But there, too, he failed to get going.

At the close of the baseball seasons Thorpe went back to his own football. Canton, O., professional football promoters for the past few seasons have paid him big money to lead their team. Though leading a rival team each fall, Thorpe has become immensely popular in Akron, as well as in Canton. Akron fans tried to wean him away from Canton for their football team, but couldn't. When the backers of the new International league club in Akron announced that they had signed Thorpe to play right field the fans went dippy.

Apparently the stage is set to Thorpe's liking. The fans will be pulling for him from the start of the first game. If Thorpe gets away good—finds the ball for a couple of husky hits in his first game or pulls off the fielding play of the contest, the fans will go plumb nutty and Thorpe will be the lion of the hour. He'll be back in his old sphere. The old stimulus will be there.

If this all happens—and it is psychologically and physically possible, it will write another interesting chapter in Jim Thorpe's career.

Won By Waiting

By ALVAH JORDAN GARTH

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

It was like a transition from the arid desert to a fertile valley of Eden, the abandonment of an impossible farm in the alkali lands, and a grateful settling down in the welcome grove of the Walden place. It was the possession of a decrepit old man, Ezra Walden, and his orphan niece, Iola, and from the start John Burton liked it and bound himself to remain. He was to work it on shares and after that on a half ownership basis.

Outside of comfort and prospect there was Iola. It took less than a month for Burton to treasure her as the brightest little being he had ever met. First he admired her, then he longed for her constant company and finally came to love her.

And then disenchantment, so far as his hopes were concerned—a blow sudden and bitter and then all the sunshine of life seemed blotted out for him. Iola had come to treat Burton almost as one of the family. She enjoyed companionship with a person so intellectual and kindly and he entertained the secret hope that as time went on she might come to regard him with the favor of affection. The place of happiness he had built so fondly crashed into ruins as one day Ezra Walden called him to his room, where he lay slowly wasting away.

"Sit down, Burton," said the old man feebly. "I want to have a talk with you. You have been a great help and comfort to me, you have worked hard and faithfully and I don't want to see you lose it. I haven't long to live, the doctor told me last week. When the end comes there is Iola to think of. I want to provide for her as fully as possible. Iola wishes to go to Denver."

A quick pain struck the heart of the ardent lover. "She has relatives there?" he ventured faintly.

"No, but about a year ago a man named Blake Darrell spent a month here hunting and fishing. He was a flashy, boastful sort of a fellow and, between you and I, I did not impress me very favorably, but as I later learned made love to Iola and she was impressed. It was after he was gone that the child told me that he had filled her mind with all kinds of glowing ideas of the active life of the city, that he was writing to her regularly, and if she ever came to Denver he would see that she got a fine position and would make her his wife. She did not exactly agree to this, for she wasn't sure of her own mind, but I can see that when I am gone her thoughts will all be fixed upon going into this new life. What I was thinking was this: You say you have about a thousand dollars saved up. Buy the place here, pay down what you can and the balance to go to Iola as she needs it. Only this—if her mind is set on going to Denver, and if she wishes to marry this man, Darrell, go with her and become her guardian until that is consummated, just as if you were myself."

Burton's heart was heavy as he gave his promise to carry out the injunctions of Mr. Walden. His dream was over and done. Iola was lost to him and the future seemed blighted. Within the week the old man died. A kindly neighbor took Iola in her charge and a few days later Burton called upon Iola to learn her wishes.

She was subdued with grief, forlornly uncertain, but finally told Burton that she wished to go to Denver. He explained to her the wishes of her grandfather and she seemed to experience a deep gratitude for his helpful, loyal service.

This was emphasized when together they started for the East. His delicate and solicitous care for her comfort touched Iola deeply. She began to realize how she would miss the sturdy, sterling friend when he went back alone to the old farm for which she secretly began to grow homesick. She was almost tearful when he left her at a hotel in Denver. Her face wore a strange seriousness when he called the next morning.

"I would like to have you deliver this," she said. "Wait for no answer." And she handed him a letter directed to Blake Darrell.

She was in a nervous flutter when Burton returned. He also acted unsettled and shaken.

"I have strange news for you, Iola," he said. "Blake Darrell was shot dead in a drunken brawl a month since. He left a widow."

To his surprise Iola seemed little affected by the intelligence. "I changed my mind half way to Denver," she spoke in troubled tones. "I do not intend to remain. Oh! my good, kind friend, whom I alone can trust, take me back—home!"

Burton began to tremble with vague suppressed emotion. She tore open the envelope he had returned to her. "Read it, please. It will explain," she said in subdued tones and turned her face away.

He understood as he traversed the lines telling Darrell that she had decided not to marry him, that her love was bestowed upon another.

"You are going back to the old home?" spoke Burton.

"Yes, if you will take me," said Iola brokenly. "We had not left the dear old place an hour before I realized my folly."

He hastened to take her hand. Her head dropped to his shoulder and he knew he was that other to whom she had referred in the letter.

HAS BASEBALL FORTUNE DAWNED AT LAST FOR JIM THORPE? THIS SEASON'LL TELL

Jim Thorpe as the college world knew him in track athletics and football togs, and when he broke into big leagues with Giants.

BY N. E. BROWN

The recent arrangement whereby the National league waived all claim on Jim Thorpe so that the Braves might release him to the Akron International league club is of more than passing interest.

There looms the possibility that the great Indian athlete is about to achieve the fame which has long eluded him in baseball, as a result of the change.

Thorpe entered the big leagues at the close of his college career. If you'll recall, Thorpe had set the athletic world on fire with his prowess as an all-around athlete at Carlisle. He was the idol of thousands. He had grown accustomed to performing in the limelight, under the admiring gaze of the crowds. It may be that this stimulus became a necessary part of the conditions surrounding him.

At any rate, when the New York Giants signed him up, fans gave him due credit for being a great athlete, but they were critical. "Will he make good as a big league ball player?" was the question they paid to see answered. Jim showed a terrible weakness in hitting curved balls. Consequently he failed to shine at bat. The Giants had a great outfield when he came, so there was no room for him as long as he could not hit. He soon found himself sitting on the bench—with the plaudits of the multitude going over his head to the ears of some other player.

Now don't get the idea that Thorpe thereupon sulked, growled, threatened to take his dolls and go home or did any such thing. He stuck to his new work with typical Indian grimness. He listened to every word of advice McGraw and the other Giants gave him. If he hadn't plugged hard he never would have stayed in the big leagues.

But with all his plugging he failed to develop into the star McGraw hoped he would be. Believing that a chance with another club where he could play regularly might help him, McGraw allowed Jim to go to the Braves. But there, too, he failed to get going.

At the close of the baseball season Thorpe went back to his own football. Canton, O., professional football promoters for the past few seasons have paid him big money to lead their team. Though leading a rival team each fall, Thorpe has become immensely popular in Akron, as well as in Canton. Akron fans tried to wean him away from Canton for their football team, but couldn't. When the backers of the new international league club in Akron announced that they had signed Thorpe to play right field the fans went dippy.

Apparently the stage is set to Thorpe's liking. The fans will be pulling for him from the start of the first game. If Thorpe gets away good—finds the ball for a couple of husky hits in his first game or pulls off the fielding play of the contest, the fans will go plumb nutty and Thorpe will be the lion of the hour. He'll be back in his old sphere. The old stimulus will be there.

If this all happens—and it is psychologically and physically possible, it will write another interesting chapter in Jim Thorpe's career.

Won By Waiting

By ALVAH JORDAN GARTH

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

It was like a transition from the arid desert to a fertile valley of Eden, the abandonment of an impossible farm in the alkali lands, and a grateful settling down in the welcome grove of the Walden place. It was the possession of a decrepit old man, Ezra Walden, and his orphan niece, Iola, and from the start John Burton liked it and bound himself to remain. He was to work it on shares and after that on a half ownership basis.

Outside of comfort and prospect there was Iola. It took less than a month for Burton to treasure her as the brightest little being he had ever met. First he admired her, then he longed for her constant company and finally came to love her.

And then disenchantment, so far as his hopes were concerned—a blow sudden and bitter and then all the sunshine of life seemed blotted out for him. Iola had come to treat Burton almost as one of the family. She enjoyed companionship with a person so intellectual and kindly, and he entertained the secret hope that as time went on she might come to regard him with the favor of affection. The place of happiness he had built so fondly crashed into ruins as one day Ezra Walden called him to his room, where he lay slowly wasting away.

"Sit down, Burton," said the old man feebly. "I want to have a talk with you. You have been a great help and comfort to me, you have worked hard and faithfully and I don't want to see you lose by it. I haven't long to live, the doctor told me last week. When the end comes there is Iola to think of. I want to provide for her as fully as possible. Iola wishes to go to Denver."

A quick pain struck the heart of the ardent lover. "She has relatives there?" he ventured faintly.

"No, but about a year ago a man named Blake Darrell spent a month here hunting and fishing. He was a flashy, boastful sort of a fellow and, between you and I, did not impress me very favorably, but as I later learned made love to Iola and she was impressed. It was after he was gone that the child told me that he had filled her mind with all kinds of glowing ideas of the active life of the city, that he was writing to her regularly, and if she ever came to Denver he would see that she got a fine position and would make her his wife. She did not exactly agree to this, for she wasn't sure of her own mind, but I can see that when I am gone her thoughts will all be fixed upon going into this new life. What I was thinking was this: You say you have about a thousand dollars saved up. Buy the place here, pay down what you can and the balance to go to Iola as she needs it. Only this—if her mind is set on going to Denver, and if she wishes to marry this man, Darrell, go with her and become her guardian until that is consummated, just as if you were myself."

Burton's heart was heavy as he gave his promise to carry out the injunctions of Mr. Walden. His dream was over and done. Iola was lost to him and the future seemed blighted. Within the week the old man died. A kindly neighbor took Iola in her charge and a few days later Burton called upon Iola to learn her wishes.

She was subdued with grief, forlornly uncertain, but finally told Burton that she wished to go to Denver. He explained to her the wishes of her grandfather and she seemed to experience a deep gratitude for his helpful, loyal service.

This was emphasized when together they started for the East. His delicate and solicitous care for her comfort touched Iola deeply. She began to realize how she would miss the sturdy, sterling friend when he went back alone to the old farm for which she secretly began to grow homesick. She was almost tearful when he left her at a hotel in Denver. Her face wore a strange seriousness when he called the next morning.

"I would like to have you deliver this," she said. "Wait for no answer." And she handed him a letter directed to Blake Darrell.

She was in a nervous flutter when Burton returned. He also acted unsettled and shaken.

"I have strange news for you, Iola," he said. "Blake Darrell was shot dead in a drunken brawl a month since. He left a widow."

To his surprise Iola seemed little affected by the intelligence. "I changed my mind half way to Denver," she spoke in troubled tones. "I do not intend to remain. Oh! my good, kind friend, whom I alone can trust, take me back—home!"

Burton began to tremble with vague suppressed emotion. She tore open the envelope he had returned to her. "Read it, please. It will explain," she said in subdued tones and turned her face away.

He understood as he traversed the lines telling Darrell that she had decided not to marry him, that her love was bestowed upon another. "You are going back to the old home?" spoke Burton.

"Yes, if you will take me," said Iola brokenly. "We had not left the dear old place an hour before I realized my folly."

He hastened to take her hand. Her head dropped to his shoulder and he knew he was that other to whom she had referred in the letter.

post hall Monday night.
There were over 65 people. After dinner a musical program was given. The "None Like It" orchestra, composed of Roy Jones, Miss Mary Dakin, Mrs. Wike, Roy Ohlinger and Mr. Jentrics, played several selections. Dr. Heilman sang, his piano accompaniment being played by Miss Doris McNeil, and Miss Helen Hurley and Miss Dorothy Clark, also appeared on the program. Dancing followed, many of the guests taking part in the old fashioned square dances.

XENIA GUESTS
AT TAMPA HOME
A party of local people spending the winter in Tampa, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Wilson, former Xenians, at dinner at their Tampa home Christmas evening. The party enjoying their hospitality consisted of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Earley and son Able, Mrs. Jackson Earley, M. B.
Mary Bain and her son.

ROBBINS AND MYERS
GIVE DANCING PARTY
About 200 people, including a number of guests from Springfield, enjoyed the post holiday dancing party which was given by the Robbins and Myers Company for its employees at Plant No. 4, this city, Monday evening.
The hall was decorated in evergreens and the lamps shaded in red and green. Music for the dancing was furnished by an excellent orchestra from Springfield. Punch was served, and the guests were served by waiters sent from Springfield by the R. and M. company.
The affair was among the most enjoyable of the kind given in the city this winter.

World's Smallest Violin.
Perfect in every detail, and so small it will lie within a space covered by two half crowns laid side by side, London now boasts of having the smallest fiddle in the world. It was made by the well-known violinist, B.
Vandermeulen, and is exquisitely constructed as to scale. The exact measurements are: Violin body, 1 11-16 inches; violin, over all, 2 1/4 inches;
bow, 8 9-16 inches.—Philadelphia

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

BY EDITH MORIARTY.

With the entrance of Nancy Langhorne Astor to the house of commons all kinds of customs are being broken and many precedents are being established. One of the first was the entrance of a woman to the reporters' gallery. Miss Cody has the distinction of being the first woman ever present in the press gallery of the lower house. Her first assignment there was a story on the occasion of the introduction of Lady Astor to the house.

Miss Cody's story was the only one of all the many columns which were written about Lady Astor which was distinctly feminine. Many of the stories told what Lady Astor wore, how she acted and what she did, but all of those things might have been observed and told by any man. It remained for Miss Cody to bring in Lady Astor's husband and small son and not how she looked up at them in the gallery as if awaiting their approval. This little personal touch of human interest was just the thing which made Lady Astor's introduction different from the men who preceded her and it is just the thing which no one but a woman would grasp. And so with women in politics we must have the woman reporter to get the real woman's point of view.

THE SERVANT PROBLEM

Word from London says negotiations between the domestic section of the Workers' Union and an association of the employers have fixed

a new standard of wages for household service in Birmingham and the Midlands. When the maids went into a union the mistresses adopted similar tactics. There was dickering back and forth for some time, until both sides agreed to a joint advisory council to adjust the matters, with the following result:

Girls of from fourteen to sixteen, in training will receive minimum wages of from $75 to $93 a year. The minimum for girls of seventeen will be $108, rising to $163 for servants of twenty-four, with an allowance of $13 for uniform.

Working hours are to be from 6:30 A. M. to 10 P. M., with two and one-half hours off for meals and two hours for leisure. One half day, from 3 P. M. to 10 P. M., the maid will be at liberty each week, and she may have similar time off every other Sunday, and will be entitled to a vacation of two weeks in the year.

For maids older than twenty-four, minimum wages are to be fixed by agreement between mistress and maid. The advisory council recommended that long service in one situation be specially recognized.

LONDON WOMEN LOSE JOB

Although many British banks and business houses have decided to retain large numbers of women employees because of their efficiency, women are being dismissed by other employers wherever men can be obtained to fill their places.

DAYTON AUTO SHOW STAGED JAN. 12-17

Marcus Loew, theatrical magnate and owner of a chain of theaters over the country, of which Loew's Dayton theater, in Dayton, is one has purchased the Metro Pictures Corporation.

The sale marks the entrance of the exhibitor into the producing field. Most of the pictures to be shown in the future in Loew's picture and vaudeville houses will be produced by himself.

Touring Car Is Recovered Monday

The Hudson touring car, owned by Mrs. M. C. Whitman of the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton, which was stolen from in front of the hotel Sunday, was recovered near Shoup's Station on the Dayton pike, Monday.

It is said that three men and two girls abandoned the machine there and took a car into Dayton. A Cole touring car owned by C. S. Willis of Washington C. H., was stolen from in front of the Miami Hotel in Dayton, Monday night.

CLIFTON

Mr. David Turner has returned home from McClellan hospital, Xenia.

The store of Robert Edwards was entered last Sunday evening. The thieves were frightened away, before they escaped with underwear which they piled on a canvas on the floor. A few cigars were taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Estle went to Columbus, O., last Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Estle's mother, Mrs. Alonzo Anderson, who died the preceding Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Although he is heir to the millions of his father, John Jacob Astor, William Vincent Astor, seven years old, can not buy health. He started for St. Moritz, Switzerland yesterday in search of health.

South Charleston Sentinel—Dennis Bryan says that from a field of September wheat, the first stalk that he examined yielded 28 eggs of the "fly." This looks like more bushels of eggs to the acre than wheat.

Mr. I. P. Dines arrived here from Washington C. H., this morning and will remain here to make arrangements for starting up the carriage business in the old Hopkins building.

Invitations are out for the marriage of John Washington Prugh, the worthy councilman from the first ward, and Miss Maud Hooven, daughter of Mr. E. P. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Xenia Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

'Twould save much needless woe.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Read what a Xenia citizen says:

Mrs. H. H. Dice, S. Columbus and Washington Sts., says: "I am always ready to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as they were so good when I used them. It was my back that caused me the most trouble. It was weak and lame and I had sharp pains across my kidneys. Frequently headaches came on me, too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Sohn's Drug Store and they gave me a lasting cure."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Dice had. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo N. Y.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control.

Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly this is a dark, not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make you miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings on such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to right—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Help you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvellously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50-cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

THE SERVANT PROBLEM

Word from London says negotiations between the domestic section of the Workers' Union and an association of the employers have fixed

a new standard of wages for household service in Birmingham and the Midlands. When the maids went into a union the mistresses adopted similar tactics. There was dickering back and forth for some time, until both sides agreed to a joint advisory council to adjust the matters, with the following result:

Girls of from fourteen to sixteen, in training will receive a minimum wages of from $75 to $93 a year. The minimum for girls of seventeen will be $108, rising to $163 for servants of twenty-four, with an allowance of $13 for uniform.

Working hours are to be from 6:30 A. M. to 10 P. M., with two and one-half hours off for meals and two hours for leisure. One half day, from 3 P. M. to 10 P. M., the maid will be at liberty each week, and may have similar time off every other Sunday, and will be entitled to a vacation of two weeks in the year.

For maids older than twenty-four, minimum wages are to be fixed by agreement between mistress and maid. The advisory council recommended that long service in one situation be specially recognized.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Not is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvellously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

RESUME OF ACTIVITIES OF FIRE DEPARTMENT FOR CURRENT YEAR SHOW AN INCREASED EFFICIENCY

While 1919 was not as busy as the preceding twelvemonth for the Xenia Fire Department in point of number of calls, the number of fires far exceeded that of the "end of the war" year.

In the year just finished the department responded to 69 calls, only two of which were false alarms, which proves the efficacy of the new telephone box police and fire alarm system.

In 1918, the department responded to 79 calls, 25 of which were false, which leaves a total number of fires of 52.

DOESN'T NEED ANY LAXATIVES NOW

Mr. Becker says life is a joy, without constipation or stomach trouble.

"I had catarrh of the stomach and head for three years. My stomach was so bad that every time I ate anything sweet, such as fruit or pastry, the burning hot water would run out of my mouth. I took a laxative every night. Since taking Milks Emulsion, my bowels move regularly. I have now taken ten bottles and have gained 10 pounds. All my friends remark how fine I am looking, and it seems a pleasure to live again, without stomach trouble."

—Bert Becker, Miami, Ohio.

Milks Emulsion usually makes slaves out of their users, and weakens the bowels instead of correcting them. Stomach trouble in many cases is directly due to constipation.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickens the digestive organs in shape assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Guaranteed by Sayre and Hemphill.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED BY "Y" TO GREENE CO.

COMMITTEE SELECTED TO CHOOSE RECIPIENTS OF Y. M. C. A. FUND

Greene county is to receive a portion of Ohio's share, $100,000 of a fund made available through the Young Men's Christian Association for the purpose of giving free scholarships to ex-service men. Greene county's share will probably be about $1200.

Herbert Davis of this city, and County Commissioner R. E. Corry of Yellow Springs, were named by the Y. M. C. A. to select a local educational service committee of five members whose duty will be to look after the disbursement of the fund. The committee named by them consists of Prosecuting Attorney Harry D. Smith, Xenia; President W. R. McChesney of Cedarville College; George Hudson, Xenia; David Bradfute, Cedarville, and Harry Hackett, Yellow Springs.

The scholarships offered include free tuition and free text books, and the money with which to pay for them is provided by the Y. M. C. A. educational council in an allotment based on population according to the 1910 census. This is a continuation in a sense of the great "khaki university," which the "Y" organized overseas, and for which it made a large appropriation. The war ended sooner than expected, and the war department itself taking over the "khaki university," left some unexpended funds which have been appropriated for educational purposes, and these are used in connection with the free scholarships.

In localities where there are no Y. M. C. A. classes, the scholarships will be offered by extensive correspondence courses, covering vocational subjects including agriculture, and by a limited number of collegiate and university scholarships for Ohio.

The committee named to have charge of the fund from Greene county will receive all applications, and award scholarships free of cost from their territory, except that collegiate and university scholarships are awarded by the state committee.

Almost Too Good an Excuse.

Sarah was invited with her older sister to take tea with a friend of her mother. The little girl was anxious to do her sister credit, but after sampling a piece of cake which she had taken upon her plate was unable to eat it because she did not like it. Her hostess, noticing this, said: "Why, Sarah, you haven't eaten your cake!" Drawing a long breath and not wishing to hurt her friend's feelings Sarah replied: "No, it is so good, I can't."

Too Much Johnson.

A seeker after knowledge asked the young woman behind the desk of one of Brooklyn's branch public libraries for Boswell's "Life of Doctor Johnson." She catechised him as to what Doctor Johnson's first name was—and how did Boswell spell his name and what were his initials. Then she confided with a charming smile that she wanted to be sure. "There are so many Doctor Johnsons, you know," was her final comment.

The provisions of the gift are too numerous to be given in detail here, but in general it is provided that where a person is injured in performing some act of bravery the commission may provide for him until he has recovered, or for his family, in case he dies as the result of his bravery. MEN AND WOMEN ARE NO OLDER THAN THEY FEEL

One of our leading doctors says, "Everyone, no matter what their age, can be healthy and strong. It is a case of take care of yourself."

"For want of Iron and Phosphates you may be old at thirty, nervous, thin, weak, and all-in, while at fifty or sixty, with plenty of Iron and Phosphates in your blood, you will feel young, full of life, vim and energy."

"Many a man and woman who ought to feel young are losing out simply because their blood and nerves are starved for want of Phosphated Iron. Lack of Iron and Phosphates makes men and women old long before their time, weak, run-down nervous wrecks."

"You will find that the strong, keen, forceful, successful men and healthy, rosy-cheeked, happy women are those whose blood and nerves are charged with Iron and Phosphates."

"Phosphated Iron makes new, rich red blood; renews nerve force and vitality, and increases my patients' strength and appearance one hundred per cent. Thousands of men and women who were 'all-in' have 'come-back' with astonishing health, strength and happiness by taking Phosphated Iron."

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. The Radical and Contradictory Statements regarding the Teeth and Mouth have made the public skeptical. Intelligent people care for their teeth — they do not worry about whether the mouth should be Acid or Alkaline — they know the mouth is as nature intended if the stomach is in proper condition. They demand a safe dentrifice, one that contains no grit, one that is not over-medicated, one that does not contain too much sugar, but a tooth paste made to thoroughly cleanse the teeth and keep the mouth in a healthy condition and can be used freely with absolute confidence that it is Safe.

WOULD THEY KNOW

Lazell Hygienic Dental Cream

is a successful combination of Chlorate of Potash and Ipecac. It contains also ingredients which effectively clean and whiten the teeth and leave in the mouth a delightful feeling of cleanliness. It gives you a greater assurance against Pyorrhea and other diseases of the mouth, teeth and gums than any other dentrifice.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED BY "Y" TO GREENE CO.

COMMITTEE SELECTED TO

Y. M. C. A. FUND

Greene county is to receive a portion of Ohio's share, $100,000 of a fund made available through the Young Men's Christian Association for the purpose of giving free scholarships to ex-service men.
Greene county's share will probably be about $1200.

Herbert Davis of this city, and County Commissioner R. E. Corry of Yellow Springs, were named by the Y. M. C. A. to select a local educational service committee of five members whose duty will be to look after the disbursement of the fund.
The committee named by them consists of: Prosecuting Attorney Harry D. Smith, Xenia; President
W. R. McChesney of Cedarville College; George Hudson, Xenia; David Bradford, Cedarville, and Harry Hackett, Yellow Springs.

The scholarships offered include free tuition and free text books, and the money with which to pay for them is provided by the Y. M. C. A.
educational council in an allotment based on population according to the 1910 census. This is a continuation in a sense of the great "khaki university," which the "Y" organized overseas, and for which it made a large appropriation. The war ended sooner than expected, and the war department itself taking over the "khaki university," left some unexpended funds which have been appropriated for educational purposes, and these are used in connection with the free scholarships.

In localities where there are no
Y. M. C. A. classes, the scholarships will be offered by extensive correspondence courses, covering vocational subjects including agriculture, and by a limited number of collegiate and university scholarships for Ohio.

The committee named to have charge of the fund for Greene county will receive all applications, and award scholarships free of cost from its territory, except that collegiate and university scholarships are awarded by the state committee.

The Radical and Contradictory Statements regarding the Teeth and Mouth have made the public skeptical. Intelligent people care for their teeth—they do not worry about whether the mouth should be Acid or Alkaline—they know the mouth is as nature intended if the stomach is in proper condition. They demand a safe dentrifice, one that contains no grit, one that is not over-medicated, one that does not contain too much sugar, but a tooth paste made to thoroughly cleanse the teeth and keep the mouth in a healthy condition and can be used freely with absolute confidence that it is safe.

Lazell Hygienic Dental Cream

is a successful combination of Chlorate of Potash and Ipecac.
It contains also ingredients which effectively clean and whiten the teeth and leave in the mouth a delightful feeling of cleanliness. It gives you a greater assurance against Pyorrhea and other diseases of the mouth, teeth and gums than any other dentrifice.
